CORPORATE CULTURE SPECIALIST

THE SOUND OF CULTURE + KEYNOTE

As a Corporate Culture Specialist, Monica shapes The Sound Of Culture for #DailyProgress. Attendees will be inspired to intentionally progress, embrace unity, and press into the areas where a cultural breakthrough is needed through this keynote.

Every culture has a sound, and everyone is unique in their own right within that sound. Unity just like music is shaped by language, rhythm, tone, energy, instrumentation, and volume. When we intentionally build these elements into our environment, we can create beautiful “music” with our teams, clients, and companies!

Everyone will be invited to consider these questions and ideas: What is the sound of your culture? And what would you like the elements of your sound to be?

1. The language and values.
2. The rhythm or pace you keep.
3. The tone or goals and markers of success.
4. The energy you want others to feel through what you do and say.
5. The instruments you use to carry it.
6. The volume you want it to reach.

We must determine and keep the vision and beat we want others to hear, move to, and repeat.

SHAPING SOLUTIONS

- Seeing culture differently.

They will think about culture in a new way that enables them to be more intentional about making progress and shaping an environment for people and business to thrive.

- Valuing employees.

They will understand the importance of placing value on each one and the small or large part they play.

- Improving teamwork.

They will be provided with language and a framework, for performance improvement.
